SUMMER SCHOOL IN QUALITY 2018

Summer School in Quality is a unique opportunity to learn, share experiences and meet new colleagues who share the same interests for Quality.

Bearing in mind the conditions of business in the European market, managing business quality through different management systems has a significant role, not only in breaking into new markets, but also in maintaining the existing ones.

In order to inform your employees about the meaning and importance of management systems, the Institute for Research and Design in Commerce and Industry has organized the Summer School in Quality 2018.

The idea is to gather people to exchange experiences and discuss the present and future of business management, with the goal of training people in managing service and product quality in a reliable and tenable way.
